Grass Roots Farmers’ Cooperative

Small farms, growing strong.
What are the cooperative’s goals?

• To make sustainable agriculture a viable way of life for farmers on small-scale farms.

• To provide economically disadvantaged minorities the opportunity to earn a living wage.

• To improve consumers’ access to healthy, humanely raised foods.
The benefit of cooperating?

By sharing production, processing, aggregation, distribution, and marketing resources, our farmers can focus on their farming and raise animals using the most humane, responsible practices.
Our standards are developed and implemented by our production staff. They are reviewed annually and may be revised to reflect innovation.

The production staff regularly visits each farm to ensure that the standards are being met. Any violation is reported to the board, who decides what action is required.
Scale and Consistency
Transparency and Traceability

- The full-length version of our production standards are published on our website.

- Any customer who wants to come out and visit one of our farms to see how we operate is invited to do so.

- Bi-annually we have a series of open-farm days where farms in different regions host large groups of customers who want to tour the land and enjoy a meal of local foods.
